Question 100

Jose Joaquín Madrigal

Youtube

Hy Saurav.

Great tutorial.

How is the SQL statement if you use `findset(false,false)` instead of `findset()`, as long as you are not changing the records?. Is it different and/or faster?

And what about `calcfields`?. Is it better use `loadfields` with `calcfields` as well?

Hi Saurav,

I have watched your videos on YouTube on how to use Job Queue Entries in D365BC and hope you can help.

I am trying to create a job for Get Sales Orders, Object ID 698.

The problem is I add custom action I created it to open custom page (weight card).

I created the page with 4 fields Document no this is no series and document date and (po no , vend no) there the problem.

I want to get this two fields from current record on purchase order Card page and insert it in my custom page systematically not by the user.

Thanks sir.
