Question 15

Nitin

- NAV 2018
- I have been watching your Task Schedular series and they inspired me to ask a few questions related to it.

1. Every once in a while, I see the following error in the job queue log entries in NAV 2018: "Sorry, we just updated this page. Reopen it and try again. I have tried to replicate it/debug it, but I have never been successful. Any thoughts as to why we get this error message. I tried googling it, but nothing really comes up. Is there any way of trapping this error so that we can fix it?

2. In Job queue entries (NAV 2018), there are tons of entries created for different users for Codeunit 2161 (Calendar Event Execution). I am not sure how they got created and why they got created. Any thoughts?

Question 17

Nitin

- NAV2018/BC

- I watched your last question and answer session where I submitted a question on recordref.

- I don't have an example of what I am looking for.

- I have seen other developers using it, so I wanted to understand how they work and in what situations should they be used?

- What are the benefits of using them?
